

CALL FOR NEW MEMBERS: EUROPEAN APPRENTICES NETWORK EUROPEAN ORGANISATIONS AND NETWORKS

Deadline: 17th April 2022, after that applications can be submitted through the guidelines found on www.apprenticesnetwork.eu

Apply via <https://forms.gle/FcZWHAtmVeTXCkRq8>

Who we are and why are looking for new Members

The European Apprentices Network (EAN) is a network of apprentices, youth organisations and other bodies related to apprenticeships at the European level. EAN was established in 2017 to ensure that young apprentices both in secondary and third-level education are shaping the discussion and policymaking related to VET, in particular for apprenticeships.

In the past 5 years we have contributed to several policy agendas, such as the Council Recommendations on Quality and Effective Apprenticeships, gathered the voice of young apprentices through surveys and meetings at the local level and developed priorities and policy positions such as the ones on the Osnabruck Declaration and on Apprenticeships in the post-Covid19 era. We want to continue developing, learning together and understanding the needs of apprentices in Europe to be able to better represent them and engage them in promoting their rights.

The Network can be composed of up to 10 individuals, 15 national organisations and 8 European organisations which elect a steering group of 6 people, balanced across its 3 groups of members. And this is where you come in! Come and join us as a representative!

Who you are and what you will be doing

As a European organisation, your organisation would commit to being a permanent member of the European Apprentices Network and contribute with your policy, your ideas and your representation structures to the developments of other representative bodies on the European level. Specifically, you will contribute your contacts and you will try to mainstream apprenticeships in your policy and advocacy, through your participation in the EAN.

As an organisation the fundamental criteria is that you have, or are committed to developing, relevant experience working on VET, apprenticeships or students in work-based learning and that apprentices and VET students have the possibility to be part of your leadership and decision-making bodies.

As a European member, you will then need to nominate a permanent delegate. The permanent delegate can be changed by the nominating organisation. The delegate to the EAN should be:

- A current/recent apprentice; OR a student representative; OR active nationally/internationally on VET /apprenticeship policy;
- Available to attend online and offline meetings abroad
- Willing and have the capacity to meaningfully contribute to the work of the EAN in-between physical meetings through the online platforms made available to the Network, and communicate about it to external stakeholders in your country and at European level.
- Able to communicate in English at a conversational level

- Motivated to engage other apprentices on the local and national level with the idea of creating a national representation body in your country
- Able to contribute the policies of the national organisation to the EAN and reverse, bring back the EAN discussions on the national level

What will the EAN do in the next 2 years

In 2022 and 2023, the European Apprentices Network will be engaged in:

- Supporting independent apprentices representation
 - Supporting the development of national representation, specifically countries without representation
 - Growing & Supporting existing national representation also through country specific study visits
 - Fostering direct collaboration with apprentices organisations to learn and exchange with each other
- Advocating for quality apprenticeships through our 7 key priorities and other policy documents
 - Producing policy and position papers on the basis of experience and evidence
 - Providing opinions and evidence to European institutions on apprenticeships and VET
 - Participating in developing quality national policies
 - Monitoring the role of apprentices in the Post-Covid19 scenario and promoting the Position Papers on the Osnabruck Declaration and the Position Paper on the Future of Apprenticeships in the post Covid-19 era
- Promoting the image of apprenticeships
 - Being a motivational voice at the forefront of dissemination
 - Aim at providing guidance and support to perspective apprentices
- Building partnerships and cooperation with other stakeholders
 - Supporting companies to develop quality apprenticeships, specifically from the participation perspective
 - Working in synergy with companies and other VET providers

- Contributing to the European Alliance for Apprenticeships
- Organising Statutory meetings to shape the directions of the Network

Members of the European Apprentices Network are expected to:

- Be available to attend the relevant physical meetings and participate actively to online discussions and on-going processes (input, analysis, discussion, feedback);
- Contribute to collecting information/best practices/national examples on the topic and share the information , within the Network;
- Promote the Network and apprenticeships as worthwhile career choice (e.g. through ambassadors for apprenticeships) in their country and represent the Network at European level;
- Write articles for the EAN, contribute to publications and studies on apprenticeships;
- Assess European Commission's proposals on Vocational Education and Training and apprenticeships, and provide input and feedback through the support of the Secretariat of the European Apprentices Network.

Expected time commitment: 5 hours per month + 10 days of travel per year

Disclaimer: Members who will be engaged in the Steering Committee will be expected to travel at least 4 times a year to meetings of the European Alliance for Apprenticeships. Regular members will travel on ad-hoc basis but are expected to engage online.

Selection process

The Selection process will be carried out by OBESSU and the National Society of Apprentices through their Staff Members on the basis of the above mentioned criteria and the motivation expressed in the application form. These criteria were developed by the current EAN members.

In the selection process, special attention will be put on:

- Having a balanced composition in terms of current and/or recent former apprentices taking part both as individuals, as well as representatives of relevant youth structures.
- Gender balance.
- Geographical balance.
